

preparedness apparatus, confirmed Musso's assertions in an interview with IPS.

The Michigan official, Lt. Milton Jury, stated that representatives of local, county and state government, police and service agencies also receive their preparedness instruction at the DCPA Staff College at Battle Creek. The training program includes evacuation, relocation and food control--all counterinsurgency methods for population control developed by British Brigadier General Frank Kitson, under the tutelage of master brainwasher John Rawlings Rees, during World War II.

Jury also revealed that the LEAA provides the funds to train DCPA, police, military and civilian personnel in LEAA-style counterinsurgency operations. Happily, he noted the increasing "day-to-day" role that the civil defense apparatus is playing in civilian affairs.

IBM PAPERS NAME NCLC

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30 (IPS)--The International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) has collaborated with executive personnel of the IBM Corporation to produce and publicize a Pentagon Papers-type document which attempts to link the National Caucus of Labor Committees to terrorist activities and organizations. The IACP is a front group for the CIA and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The document, "IBM as a Target of Terrorism," opens with an account of supposed "real terrorist threats against IBM," and calls upon the corporation to institute "an effective intelligence system on the plans and acts of extremists and terrorists." To support that proposal, a special section of the document is devoted to the NCLC as "precisely the kind of organization that IBM should now be monitoring, using all its resources." The only other organizations mentioned by name are the CIA-directed Symbionese Liberation Army, the fascist Jewish Defense League, the American Nazi Party and the Ku Klux Klan.

The cover for the operation was a "12-day IACP training session" with top IBM executives, in the course of which the document was supposedly produced. IBM already maintains a large, well-trained security division, which serves as a major conduit for "former" CIA officers deployed into industrial security.

Under the title "The IBM Papers," the document was delivered over for publication in the Nov. 15 Berkeley Barb through agents at the so-called New York News Service--a basement recreation of Tuli Kupferberg, the semi-psychotic former member of the Fugs rock band.

The Barb publication was quickly followed by coverage in the New York Times, the San Francisco Chronicle and the San Francisco Examiner. These virtually identical articles quoted IBM officials as saying that they had no intention of implementing the "counterintelligence" measures called for in the report, thus slyly conceding that the document was a hoax intended to be "leaked" solely to slander the Labor Committees and to whip up hysteria about terrorism.

In the report, NCLC cadre are described as "truly skilled provocateurs of violence," who "attempt to organize and manipulate IBM workers." The report then mentions "work slowdowns, active disruption and sabotage and non-negotiable demands on non-wage issues such as...drugs." This species of apolitical provocation is advocated only by such brainwashed creatures as those in the CIA's own "Revolutionary Union" counter-gang.

PALESTINIAN PROPOSES RETURN TO 1947 BORDERS

Nov. 30 (IPS)--Palestinian guerrilla leader Zuheir Mohsin granted a special interview to the staid British financiers' daily the Financial Times Nov. 26, in which he laid down "conditions for a new relationship resulting in a stable and just peace" in the Middle East. Mohsin's "moderate" demands, issued immediately before he joined Palestinian Liberation Organization boss Yasser Arafat on a Thanksgiving voyage to Moscow, centered on forcing Israel to return to the original borders laid down in the 1947 United Nations mandate on Palestine.

Mohsin currently heads the right-wing Syrian-backed "Al Saiqa" guerrilla organization. Saiqa was created by the Syrian military and is little more than a Palestinian-staffed division of the Syrian army.

It is absolutely clear that Israel would not even consider such a proposal, which would "liberate" not only the territory occupied in the 1967 war, but the entire area under Israeli control since the first Arab-Israeli war of 1948. Despite the Financial Times' straight-faced presentation, the proposal is equivalent in seriousness to demands by CIA-backed Indian-liberation grouplets in the United States for Wyoming or South Dakota.

The significance of Mohsin's suggestion is that it preceded the Arafat pilgrimage to Moscow. The recent series of diplomatic reverses suffered by the increasingly enraged Zionist butchers has already provided the context for a "groundswell" at the UN in favor of the Mohsin 1947-border idea. Such a UN movement, led, of course, by the much touted "Arab-Communist-Third World" coalition, would provoke the Israelis into escalating the simmering Middle East war.
