Labor Party "IPS" Expose Forces Backdown On July 4 Terror; Rocky Opts For Uganda Massacre In Outflanking Maneuver

July 4 (NSIPS) — At the time of this writing, the Bicentennial terrorist plans built up over the past two months by the Rockefeller Atlanticist faction — aimed at imposing martial law Schachtian government in the U.S. through the bloody activation of Marcus Raskin's Institute for Policy Studies terrorists — have fizzled. As recently as 48 hours before the scheduled Bicentennial Day onslaught, professional intelligence analysts were describing the state of activation of the Rockefeller "invisible government" apparatus as having reached the "saturation point." One analyst drew the direct analogy to the hours leading to the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion and the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Rockefeller military advisor, Lt. General William Yarborough, on a July 1 interview identified July 4 as the "put up or shut up" day.

There can thus be no confusion over the fact that up through the hours before the terrorist hordes were to be flooded into Philadelphia, Washington, D.C. and New York City, the Rockefeller "Operation Bicentennial" was very much a live operation. Only one factor intervened to force Rockefeller and Company to accept this serious tactical defeat in the United States: the recognition on their part that they stood to suffer a more serious tactical defeat by actually following through on their domestic terrorist program. The simultaneous bloody culmination to the Uganda hijacking operation was very much tied to the domestic decision.

In the several weeks leading into July 4, U.S. Labor Party representatives had created the environment aimed precisely at forcing the Rockefeller backdown. Police and elected officials in the nation's capitol and over sixty cities around the country — encompassing every major urban center targeted for Bicentennial or racial violence — were thoroughly briefed on the details of the Rockefeller insurrectionary plans. Institute for Policy Studies agents in place in those cities were correctly targeted as the terrorist controllers. In effect, had the Rockefeller faction decided to activate the terrorists, the Institute for Policy Studies would have been immediately destroyed. A secondary but equally crucial related effect would have been the consolidation of pro-Constitution forces, most notably the Ford Republican Party machine, the non-Fabian, principally local and regional Democratic Party old liners, leadership of the civil rights movement, the Teamsters, etc., and the law enforcement agencies associated with those political groupings — under close Labor Party collaboration and tactical direction. With the dismantling of the crucial Raskin Institute networks, which encompass the terrorist gangs, the press and related "watergating" capabilities, the Jimmy Carter "machine," etc; Rockefeller, Kissinger et. al would have soon been relegated to the archaeological category of "petrified toothless dinosaurs."

The Box Scores

Beginning with the April 26-28 Glassboro, N.J. "Symposium on International Terrorism," the Labor Party Security Staff received hard evidence from top Rockefeller family allied think tanks concerning the planned July 4 terrorist activations. Literally scores of canned "scenarios" were gridded against the press outlets, academics and government officials cited as their sources. Programs calling for the activation of a nuclear "Pearl Harbor" terrorist attack against the Bicentennial events, the Montreal Olympics and the Democratic National Convention; for the assassination of President Ford during his keynote address in Philadelphia today; for the detonation of a nuclear device in some major urban center; for the outbreak of bloody racial violence in urban centers throughout the country coinciding with terrorist actions in Philadelphia and Washington DC; etc. were put out by circles directly traceable back to the Institute for Policy Studies and the allied International Association of Chiefs of Police.

By the week of June 21-28, direct field reports from east coast cities had confirmed the deployment of Institute terrorists from the various Bicentennial coalitions (July 4 Coalition, People's Bicentennial Coalition, Revolutionary Union, American Indian Movement, Weathermen, Puerto Rican Socialist Party ...) into east coast cities. These deployments were most notably characterized by a heavy infusion of funds, free access to large quantities of drugs and weapons.

Crucial evidence gathered during this period established that Attorney General Edward Levi, operating through the Justice Department's Civil Disorder and Community Relations Services (both created under the direction of Gen. Yarborough — see the accompanying feature report for full details) would maintain finger-tip control over the activities of the Institute terrorists through street level interfacing with the riot "marshalls" and the countergang controllers.

What happened? Approximately reliable police estimates placed 15,000 hard core Institute zombies in Philadelphia by midday today. A similar number arrived at the same time in Washington, DC. A marginal factor of ten to twenty thousand "peripheral" dupes and Institute fellow travelers failed to show up in each targeted city as the direct result of Labor Party exposure of the Rockefeller-Raskin terrorist designs.

Israeli Raid Into Uganda Part Of The Script

The Israeli terrorist raid into Kampala, Uganda was an attempt to provoke another Munich style massacre, part of the hijacking scenario in which the Rockefeller-connected Dayan-Peres clique has been complicit right from the start.

Using three Israeli planes and one unidentified aircraft, an elite commando force of high-ranking Israeli officers moved into the airport where the hostages were held, spending twenty minutes murdering anywhere from 20 (according to Israeli sources) to 100 (according to Ugandan sources) Ugandan soldiers at the base, destroying about 10 Ugandan

The marginal no-shows undercut the range of terrorist options; however, that was by no means a decisive factor in the orders to cancel the operation. The facts of the Justice Department's tight command and control — thus undercutting the Frankenstein danger inherent in bringing together large congregations of drugged zombies — were just as much crucial in putting the "stops" on the operation as they would have been had the top-down Rockefeller decision been made to "activate."

The Current Tactical Opportunities

Two critical features of the Rockefeller decision to sacrifice the Bicentennial terrorist action highlight both the dangers and the openings created by these developments:

1. The June 30th debt rollover crisis which precipitated the terrorist offensive in the first place still remains unresolved. Neither the debt moratorium-International Development Bank nor the imposition of Schachtian police state rule have been realized. The necessity, from the Rockefeller standpoint, therefore, to go ahead with the terrorist offensive not only still exists: it now becomes an even greater necessity. General Yarborough stated that "the terrorist onslaught will continue until the U.S. population has received such a hotfoot that they will accept martial law ..."

2. Drawing on both the tactical opening and the crucial evidence provided by the events surrounding the Bicentennial terror operation, the Institute for Policy Studies networks are now at their most vulnerable state. Yet they still remain intact. As the unfolding events in Uganda, Lebanon and West Germany indicate, as long as the networks remain intact, no one can sleep soundly — reassured that he or she is safe from the threat of terrorist violence and nuclear devastation. Raskin's Institute has never been more vulnerable. It can and must be destroyed now.

planes, and practically destroying the entire airport with explosives before they went after the hostages. They thus provided the zombie terrorists with ample time to massacre all the hostages, but the unstable zombies, according to press reports, were talked out of this by members of the hijacked plane's crew, thereby permitting the hostages to be actually rescued.

All of the zombie terrorists — including the German leader who could not carry out his assignment of blowing up the hostages — were killed, as well as three hostages and one Israeli commando.

NEW YORK, July 4 (NSIPS) — The following statement was issued today by the Executive Committee of the U.S. Labor Party:

A raging fight, much of it behind the scenes, has erupted in the United States, as a result of exposure of members of the Rockefeller family and others as being directly behind the current wave of international terrorist acts. The most recent terrorists' abduction of an international passenger flight is one of the centrally deployed provocateur operations arranged for the period of the USA's Bicentennial celebrations. The included object of the projected wave of international terrorist provocations is to assist in pushing through police-state and fascist-modeled economic legislation during the summer months.

The most visible element in the exposed international conspiracy is the Rockefeller-backed Institute for Policy Studies. The Institute, a 1963-founded successor to the old British Foreign Office's Fabian Society, runs a vast Maoist and terrorist international network under various covers. The technic support for the Institute's Maoist and terrorist
