The State of the War

The war of the degenerate British Empire against the human race flared out into the open March 29, with the deadly suicide bombings in Moscow. Lyndon LaRouche responded by pointing an accusatory finger directly at British Intelligence, adding that the intent was to discredit the Russian government in the eyes of its people, in order to accomplish the broader imperial aim: the destruction of the Russian nation, a crucial member of LaRouche's proposed Four Power alliance.

LaRouche knows precisely whereof he speaks. EIR has an extensive record, going back to 1999, at least, of exposing the British-Saudi hand (and wallet) behind the North Caucasus terrorist apparatus, which is the leading on-the-ground suspect in this latest mayhem. Although they have not yet said so, the Russians also recognize the British spoor, particularly in the form of the massive drug trade in Afghanistan which funds the terrorists.

At the same time, the British drive for the destruction of the United States, through deploying militia groups, and manipulating Obama's ego to set him up for assassination, is coming to the fore. LaRouche has put this process into sharp historical relief, by identifying the way in which the political environment is being shaped to echo that of the run-up to the 1963 Kennedy assassination. Don't just look to the details, or to profile particular operations. There's an environment being created in which a serious assassination attempt can be carried out.

The British have killed U.S. Presidents repeatedly—with the Kennedy assassination having been the most devastating. Are patriots going to let Obama be so stupid as to run around the country boasting and campaigning, as his narcissistic Nero complex impels him to do? Potential assassins are counting on just such ego-driven mania.

As in the run-up to the Kennedy assassination, and also 9/11, we are now seeing an activation of militia and other potentially terrorist operations. Amazingly, one of the most prominent of these operations, the armed march on the Potomac being organized by Mike Vanderboegh, the blow-hard pro-Confederate, is linked to precisely the same British crew that ran the 1990s operation against President Clinton! These are unabashed British stooges, masquerading as "patriots," and avowedly nurtured by the case officer for anti-Clinton operations, London's Ambrose Evans-Pritchard.

These stooges are ripe to be exposed, and politically destroyed.

But victory cannot come simply by blowing Britain's operations, as essential as that function is. The impetus for the British assault is their determination to maintain power in the midst of the collapse of their system, in the way they traditionally have—by creating chaos and devastation among all their potential rivals. This cannot be stopped without replacing the imperial monetary system itself.

The dynamic of the mass strike in the United States, and globally, must be educated to embrace the positive alternative to empire, the LaRouche Plan for reviving the American System through a Global Glass-Steagall and a fixed-rate currency system that will fund massive infrastructure projects worldwide. We must inspire the kind of fight for the future, which will not cease until our institutions are once more back on a Constitutional track. Peace is not the absence of war; it's development—economic and moral.

That's the road to victory over the British Empire, in the war that LaRouche is leading—and that we urge you to join.
